An education at LCSC and their spirit of giving back, make the Holley family a wonderful multigenerational asset to the college and our community

Lewis-Clark State College is proud of the accomplishments of people associated with the college, like the Holleys, who make countless contributions to our community and LCSC. This is a tight family that collectively has a big heart and they make LCSC an important part of it.

Brett co-owns and operates Well Connected Electric in Lewiston where both daughter Chelsea and son Zach work. Brett serves as a honorary coach during the World Series and the company delivers for Meals on Wheels. Jen is a Business Solutions Rep for Inland Cellular and is past president of the LCSC athletic booster club, the Warrior Athletic Association.

Brett attended LCSC in the late 1980s and was part of the 1987 NAIA World Series championship team. Jen also attended LC at that time and jokes that she majored in Brett. Their son Zach also won a national baseball title at LCSC which makes Brett and Zach the first father and son to win NAIA national baseball titles.

“LCSC is where I met my husband, it’s where he and my son both played baseball,” Jen says. “It’s home base. It’s family.”
