

SERVICE BY US

Meet Angela Blewett, director of Claim Services for Regence BlueShield of Idaho in Lewiston.

Angela and her husband, Brett, enjoy snowmobiling, camping, exploring the mountains and spending time with their family, which includes two children, a daughter-in-law and three beautiful grandchildren. She is an active community volunteer and is a member of the Willow Center for Grieving Children board of directors.

She has been with Regence for 28 years, and oversees four claims operational teams in Idaho, Oregon, Utah and Washington. "I work closely with our employees, members, providers and other health care plans across the country. I enjoy the diversity of who I work with, and the type of work. These opportunities make my job very challenging and rewarding in the constantly changing health care industry."

"The people I work with and the members we serve in our communities are what make my job so rewarding."
