Meet Darcy Nelly, co-owner of Nelly Broadcasting in Clarkston, an LCSC alum and President of the LCSC Alumni Association

Lewis-Clark State College is proud of the accomplishments of its alumni, like Darcy, and the contributions they make in our community. Known for her positive outlook and her warm smile, Darcy leads by example. She grew up in the Lewiston-Clarkston Valley and is a 1997 graduate of LCSC. Darcy won the college's Alumna of the Year Award in 2016 for her work with the LCSC Alumni Association. "I am honored to serve on the board for the LCSC Alumni Association," she says. "I have developed life-long friendships with amazing forward-thinking community leaders."

Darcy and her husband Jim live in Clarkston and own a number of radio stations in the Valley, including Big Country Classics, 92.1 FM, Big Country KZBG 97.7 FM, K-Hits 98.5 FM, Big Country Sports, and KZBG 99.1 FM. The couple has two daughters, Gracie and Rachel. Darcy enjoys spending time with her family and friends, and loves to work in her garden and do volunteer work. "I have always told my daughters, 'You don't just live in a community, you need to be a part of it by getting involved and giving back your time, talents and treasures.'"

An education at LCSC, an entrepreneurial spirit, and a desire to give back make Darcy a true asset to our wonderful community.
