NEWS DELIVERED BY US

Meet Brian Fuhs, district manager for the Lewiston Tribune and Moscow-Pullman Daily News circulation departments.

Brian and his wife, Jennifer, have five children and four grandchildren. He and Jennifer, who he calls his "best friend and greatest blessing," have been married 31 years. They enjoy going out for dinner or watching a movie in their down time, and he also lists golf among his favorite activities.

Brian began working for TPC Holdings, parent company of the Tribune and Daily News, in 2004 after a 20-year career in the U.S. Navy. As district manager, he works with independent contractors to ensure that Tribune and Daily News subscribers get their papers delivered dry, and to the right spot every morning.

"Working in circulation has been a wild ride!" he said. "Every day presents new challenges, which keeps things interesting."

"It's also a real joy to work with so many dedicated and professional people throughout the company."
