

THIS BUSINESS SUPPORTED BY LOCAL DOLLARS

Since 2018, SushiMan owner/chef, Jonathan Rau has made it his mission to provide a unique style of Japanese Street Food to the Moscow, Idaho area.

By sourcing ingredients locally in Moscow from Deep Roots Farm, The Moscow Food CO-OP, and his friends at The Fish Folks, SushiMan strives to keep things close to home, while providing a delicious and unique Sushi experience for the community.

SushiMan serves traditional Sushi Hand Rolls from a mobile food trailer that can be found every Saturday at the Moscow Farmers Market, as well as Moscow's growing Tuesday Community Market, and popping up at the many events the city has to offer.
