

THIS BUSINESS SUPPORTED BY LOCAL DOLLARS

The Yarn Underground has been a center of community on the Palouse since 2010, family owned and operated. With its own in-house hand dyed brand, Palouse Yarn Co, the walls are full of inspiring colors, natural fibers, and great project inspiration. Free meet ups, friendly staff, classes and events are the backbone of this creative community, and all are welcome. With a newly expanded space, there is more room to gather for Knit Nite, Friends Spinning, and a rest on the spouse couch. Shelley, the owner and dyer, loves to see the shop full of people sharing inspiration and good times-- it is a place where possibilities abound, creativity is nurtured, and friendships bloom. She says, "Community happens here, now and with you. Come join in the fun!"

Currently, The Yarn Underground is planning for an interactive every-age exhibit in their booth at the Latah County Fair, with hands-on opportunities for fleece washing, felting, spinning, knitting and crochet; kids crafts, and a 3-day sheep-to-finished product demo of as many fiber arts processes as there are volunteers for. Please get in touch if you want to be a part!
