

PAPER & PULP BY US

Meet Amanda Battles, Facilities Preservation Engineer/
Mechanical Engineer PE for Clearwater Paper in Lewiston.

Amanda and husband Zach, an attorney at Jones, Brower & Callery Law Offices, have two children, Quinton, 2, Xavier, 8 months, and a golden retriever named Tracer. She has been with Clearwater Paper for six years, having started as an intern in June 2012, and currently manages the mill facility.

"This includes making sure that roofs aren't leaking, building structures are in good shape, materials can get in and out of the mill on our roads and railroads, maintaining equipment insurance compliance, and much more. 'Managing' the facility includes keeping up on day-to-day maintenance and inspections, creating long-term plans and budgets for necessary upgrades, and performing assessments to prioritize where we focus our efforts to get the best bang for our buck.

"I find my job so rewarding because every day is something new. ... Working at Clearwater Paper over the past few years has really brought to light how amazing people can be and how much a team can accomplish."
