Meet Rick Malcom, outside salesman for Hahn Supply in Lewiston.

Rick has been with the company since 1981, working his way up from the warehouse to counter sales to his current position.

“Most of all I like taking care of customers and making sure that everything goes smoothly,” he said. “And when it doesn’t... I’ve always been really good at troubleshooting and fixing the problems before they get too big, because sometimes that can cost you a customer.” Rick is a Navy veteran who has two stepsons with his wife, Lynn, as well as four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. He is an avid Seattle Seahawks and Mariners fan, and enjoys gardening, fishing and making smoked meats and jerky.

“I like working as a team and Hahn has a great team here,” Rick said. “I would put our service up against anybody’s service.”
