

INSPIRED BY US

Meet John Cassleman, Associate Program Manager at Schweitzer Engineering Laboratories.

John joined SEL in 2018, and has been applying his skill and expertise to developing the company's K – 12 education outreach program.

"I create opportunities for students to engage with science, technology, and engineering and work to increase the visibility, accessibility, and quality of STEM education in our region. Teaming up with different groups from across the company and the community is exciting and always gives me the opportunity to learn something new.

"My colleagues at SEL are generous with their time and enthusiastic about helping our young people and our community. It's wonderful to have so many people supporting what you do."

John, his wife and 4-year-old daughter love picnics, reading, cooking and using their imaginations.

ECONOMIES BY US

"Local businesses support community schools, parks and fund raisers. I've seen so many locally owned businesses close. It would be foolish and arrogant to think we are not in the same situation."

Owner of Follett's
Mountain Sports
