

ENVISIONED BY US

Valley Vision is a collaborative organization with one overarching goal - to foster a thriving business climate in the Lewiston-Clarkston Valley and larger region.

Its board of directors is composed of the Valley's premier leaders, ranging from top college administrators and elected officials to founders, executives and managers of the region's leading businesses and industries. Together, they have helped provide a stable economic foundation for the entire region and its employee base.

"Valley Vision's name is our mission," Valley Vision Executive Director Karl Dye said. "We have worked since 1996 to lead and grow the Lewis-Clark Valley as one connected community."

New technologies and ever-evolving workforce needs are paramount to the region's continued economic viability, and Valley Vision is dedicated to ensuring that its current and future stakeholders have the resources that will allow them to prosper.
