

OPERATIONS BY US

Meet Heather Weeks, operations manager at Schweitzer Engineering Laboratories (SEL).

Heather and her husband Jeremy have two daughters, Addison who is 12 years old and Aubrey who is 9. With both sets of families living in the LC Valley, the girls are fortunate to be able to grow up so close to grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins.

Heather has worked at SEL for four years and has a deep appreciation for the variety of fun projects that she gets to work on and the opportunity to meet people and business leaders from around the world. Having started her career at SEL in HR, she has also enjoyed her involvement in hiring and retaining the best employees to uphold SEL's values for years to come.

“SEL truly strives to do the right thing for our employees, customers and communities. When tasked with a difficult decision or complex problem to solve, I can refer to our Principles of Operations and SEL Values to navigate to the best possible outcome. Through working with our global business leaders, I often get to encourage others to do the same - to get back to the basics, keep it simple, and to do business in a way that we can be proud of.”

Shopping and spending locally is a wise investment in the community you live in.

BUY LOCAL AND MAKE A DIFFERENCE.

FURNISHED BY US

“Without the support of our community and the surrounding area we would not remain in business. I know that some items just cannot be purchased in the LC Valley, but I believe in ‘think local first.’ A successful community starts with the people. Local purchases support local businesses. Local businesses support the community. It is a beautiful cycle.”

“When people shop local they not only support a small local business they support the whole community. As a small business we are able to provide jobs with competitive wages and great benefit packages for our employees. Each year we support local charities, schools, fundraisers, little leagues, and dozens of other causes.”
