Meet James Washington, an outside salesperson at Hahn Rental Center in Lewiston.

James has been with Hahn for the last four years. He spends time traveling around the area talking to new and existing Bobcat customers and is responsible for developing and maintaining relationships with those clients.

His favorite part of the job is meeting new customers and being able to watch them use their new equipment.

James moved to the Lewiston-Clarkston Valley seven years ago with his wife, Billie Jo, to help take care of her parents who were getting older. His two daughters, and son, are grown and have kids of their own.

In his off-time James can be found hiking, fishing, and kayaking in the Great Outdoors. While he grew up in Florida, he said one of the many reasons he enjoys living in the Inland Northwest is because "it's not the East Coast."

EQUIPMENT BY US

Hahn Rental Center is your Bobcat dealer of Lewiston and Clarkston.

The Bobcat compact tractors are used in many different markets including agriculture, grounds maintenance, landscaping, utilities and residential, commercial and infrastructure construction. They are most often used by homeowners with acreage. These machines are easy to operate and lead in comfort. They are professional-quality machines. The Bobcat 2000 platform combines maneuverability, rugged power, and increased ground clearance. Bobcat offers an optional factory installed cab as well as hydrostatic or manual-shift transmissions. The Bobcat line of tractors is strong enough for the biggest jobs, but small enough to work in tight areas.
