Meet Nathan Tumelson, senior property operations supervisor at Schweitzer Engineering Laboratories (SEL).

Born and raised in Lewiston, Nathan is an avid outdoorsman. He's a competitive bass angler and a passionate archery hunter and fly fisherman. He and his wife, Tara, have two sons, Joshua and Grady.

Nathan has been at SEL for four years and is responsible for all maintenance and services at all of the company's facilities, including HVAC, plumbing, electrical, landscaping, furniture builds, deliveries, general maintenance and customer requests. He also works with SEL's property management construction and design team to review blueprints and provide engineering advice on new construction and remodels.

"With my current role I can branch out and utilize multiple skillsets. It is fast-paced and always changing. It takes me out of my comfort zone daily. I also truly love being a supervisor."

"SEL values and rewards their employees for hard work and always acknowledges a job well done. SEL also warrants and promotes open feedback to help grow the company and its employees."
